1. The non-statutory double patenting rejection, whether of the obvious-type or non-obvious-type, is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent. In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); In re Van Ornam, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); and In re Goodman, 29 USPQ 2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321 (b) and (c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a non-statutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.78 (d).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a Terminal Disclaimer. A Terminal Disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-22 of U.S. Patent No. 6,649,317. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because Wagner et al. teaches a method of printing an image using a reactive toner by means of an electrophotographic printer (note Field of Invention column 1). Various electrophotographic electrostatic printers are shown in the Background of the Invention and the summary of the present invention (column 4 lines 35-55) teach a means of utilizing a prepared toner that reacts to form a permanent and/or fastness to a substrate or an intermediate substrate in an inexpensive electrophotographic printing process. The intermediate substrate is taught in column 6 line 45 - column 7 line 20. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention with a reasonable expectation of success to utilize toner that has a reactive functional group in a process of printing an image using an electrophotographic printer in which the printed image is transferred or permanently affixed to a substrate as shown by Wagner et al.
